

Atlantica Awarded Bronze Class Recognition in the S&P Global Sustainability Yearbook

February 2nd, 2022 – Atlantica Sustainable Infrastructure plc (NASDAQ: AY) has been awarded the Bronze Class distinction in the S&P Global 2022 Sustainability Yearbook. Only two U.S. listed companies received a medal distinction within the electric utilities industry.

S&P Global assessed 7,554 companies across 61 industries before issuing its 2022 Sustainability Yearbook. The annual study, that evaluates environmental, social and governance (ESG) performance, awards Bronze Class to companies with a score within a 5% to 10% of its industry top-performing company. The evaluation assesses aspects such as corporate governance, climate strategy, electricity generation, operational eco-efficiency, and health and safety indicators among other parameters.

Santiago Seage, Atlantica’s CEO said: “We are proud to be included in the S&P Global Sustainability Yearbook for the first time.”
